

CHADD podcasts for monetization

- 1. Show: Neurocognitive Factors Associated with the Manifestation of Hyperactivity/Impulsivity in Children with ADHD
 - Connor H. G. Patros, PhD is a postdoctoral research fellow in the department of psychology at Temple University who earned his MS and PhD in clinical psychology at Oklahoma State University. He did his clinical internship training at the Kennedy Krieger Institute. His research submission was titled, "Assessing Underlying Neurocognitive and Neurological Factors Associated with ADHD-Related Impulsivity."
- 2. Show: Understanding the ABCs of ADHD Medications and How They Work to Improve Symptoms
 - Max Wiznitzer, MD, is an associate professor of pediatrics, neurology, and international health at Case Western Reserve University. He has a longstanding interest in neurodevelopmental disabilities, especially ADHD and autism. Dr. Wiznitzer has been involved in local, state, and national committees and initiatives, including autism treatment research, Ohio autism service guidelines, autism screening, and early identification of developmental disabilities. He is on the editorial board of Lancet Neurology and the Journal of Child Neurology and lectures nationally and internationally about various neurodevelopmental disabilities.
- 3. Show: A Comprehensive Look at ADHD in Early Childhood Development
 - Mark Bertin, MD, specializes in developmental pediatrics, a sub-specialty of pediatrics focusing on the promotion of child development, and developmental disorders such as ADHD, autism, and learning disabilities.
- 4. Show: Students With ADHD Transitioning from High School to College
 - Judith Bass is the founder of Bass Educational Services and a certified educational planner. She is a nationally recognized expert in the field of college placement for students with learning differences and attention disorders.
- 5. Show - Holding Teens with ADHD Accountable
 - Jodi Sleeper-Triplett, MCC, SCAC, BCC, is a world-renowned expert in student coaching and ADHD student coaching. The founder of the ADHD student coaching movement, she has been working with students for over 35 years. She developed the first training course focused on coaching students with ADHD, which is now offered around the world in English, Spanish, Turkish, and Italian.
- 6. Show: Understanding and Accepting an ADHD Diagnosis During My Teens
 - Mari Smith is a college student who was diagnosed with ADHD as a preteen. In her journey toward acceptance, she learned how to create a positive future.