

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼View this email in your browser in this issue...

One in Three Students with ADHD Not Receiving Accommodations

A third of students who are coping with ADHD symptoms are not getting adequate support in the classroom. What can parents and educators do to help students and improve academic outcomes?

New Home, New School—What About My Child's Accommodations?

Will your child be starting at a new school this year? Academic accommodations can transfer but you need to plan ahead to make sure they are in place when school starts.

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

Ask the Expert: Educators

Meeting the Needs of Students with ADHD in the Classroom
Featuring Andrea Elrom, MAEd | August 13, 2 PM

Register Now

Students with ADHD are often bright, enthusiastic, and creative. But they can also display disruptive behaviors in the classroom and need support and redirection.

Too often educators may not have the resources, knowledge, tools, and strategies to help their struggling students. This Educators Edition of Ask the Expert will explore the unique qualities students with ADHD bring to the classroom and what resources are available to support their needs in the learning environment.

Andrea Elrom, MAEd, is an ADHD and executive function coach with more than 15 years of experience working with children and parents. Ms. Elrom emphasizes empathy and understanding to help parents develop effective strategies for addressing their children's challenging behaviors. She also works with independent schools, using a strengths-based approach to help students develop their executive function skills.

ADHD 365 Podcast

Executive Functions and ADHD in Childhood
Featuring Mark Bertin, MD

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

Mark Bertin, MD, shares his insight about the role of executive functioning in child development and the importance of self-care for parents. He shares many tips for parents and pediatricians who care for children with ADHD.

The logo features a stylized orange sunburst or flower icon to the left of the text "ADHD in the News". "ADHD" is in a bold, blue, sans-serif font, while "in the News" is in a blue, cursive script font.

ADHD in the News

- Antipsychotic use in youths with ADHD is low, but still cause for concern
- Adult Bipolar Disorder With or Without Childhood ADHD Difficult to Distinguish Using Cognitive Tests
- ADHD supplements: Are they effective?
- How Parents Can Get Kids with ADHD Prepared to Start School
- Carolyn Hax: Does husband's job-hopping point to ADHD?
- ADHD Treatment Adhansia XR Now Available
- What are the differences between Strattera and Vyvanse?
- Psychiatrist shortage is a national crisis as need for mental health care grows

Read these and other articles in the ADHD in the News weekly digest.

Need an easy-to-read resource on the medications most often prescribed for ADHD? Get CHADD's medication chart now. New medications have been added, along with revisions to earlier information. This is a handy chart when talking with health care professionals and to help you know what to expect with a specific medication.

Get The Medication Chart

NRC WebsiteFacebookTwitterYoutubeInstagram

Subscribe

Past Issues

Translate ▼

*Copyright © 2019 CHADD, All rights reserved.
4221 Forbes Blvd, Suite 270
Lanham, MD 20706*

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can subscribe or update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

CHADD does not endorse products, services, publications, medications, or treatments, including those advertised in any CHADD publications, webinars or podcasts.