ADVOCACY

10 We Must Advance ADHD Care

Kathleen Nadeau, PhD

We should all be alarmed by the troubling evidence of shorter lifespans and lives filled with adversity. It's time for an ADHD treatment revolution that focuses on healthy habits that will support better brain functioning and better mood regulation.

PARENTS & EDUCATORS

14 Can AI Revolutionize Education for Students with ADHD?

Michelle Raz

Used thoughtfully and creatively, this growing technology can be a real boon to neurodivergent learners.

18 Disorganization and Adolescents with ADHD

Steven W. Evans, PhD

Training teens to develop routines that organize their thinking can help them succeed in school, friendships, part-time jobs, and social activities.

22 Adjusting to College: A Unique Model of Student Support for ADHD

Heidi A. Rogers and Heather Simonich

Here's how one small college helps students with ADHD navigate the challenges of higher education.

LIFESPAN

26 Expecting with ADHD

Liz Lewis

More resources, education, and awareness about ADHD during pregnancy and early motherhood are essential.

32 ADHD and Focus Fitness

Jeff Copper, MBA, PCC, PCAC, and Lidia Zylowska, MD

Your brain needs regular training to stay mentally fit.

34 Chasing Excitement in a Bottle

Riley Karbon

Getting sober helped her finally understand her ADHD. Here's what she learned.
